

SAGA 1977

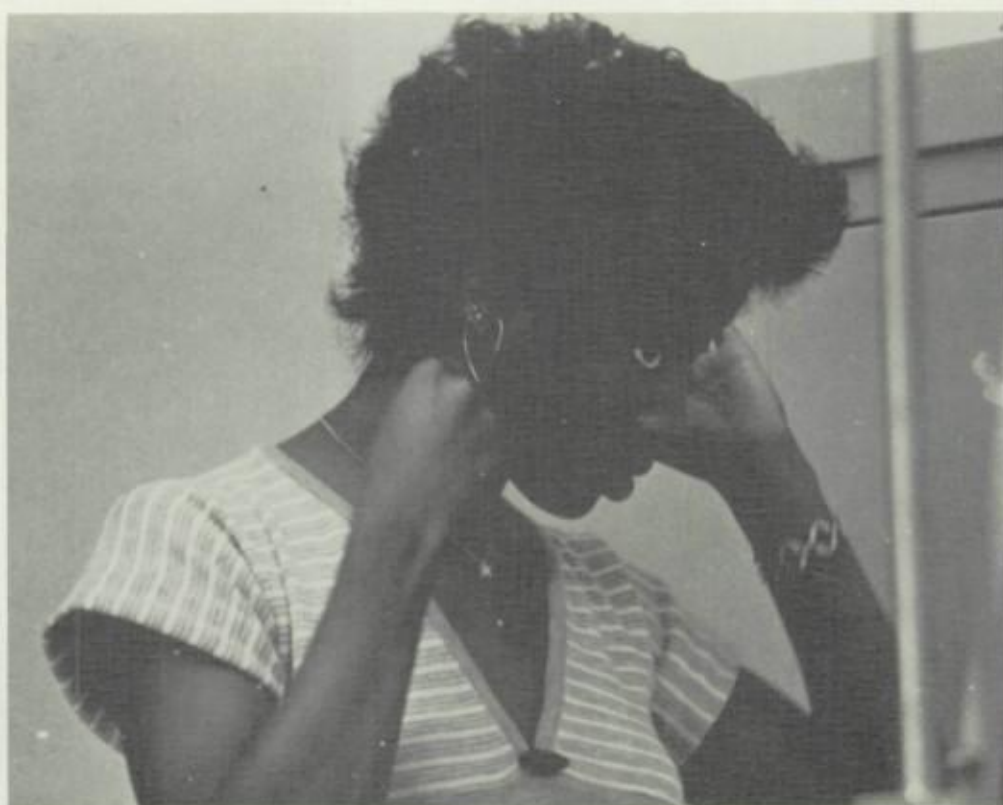

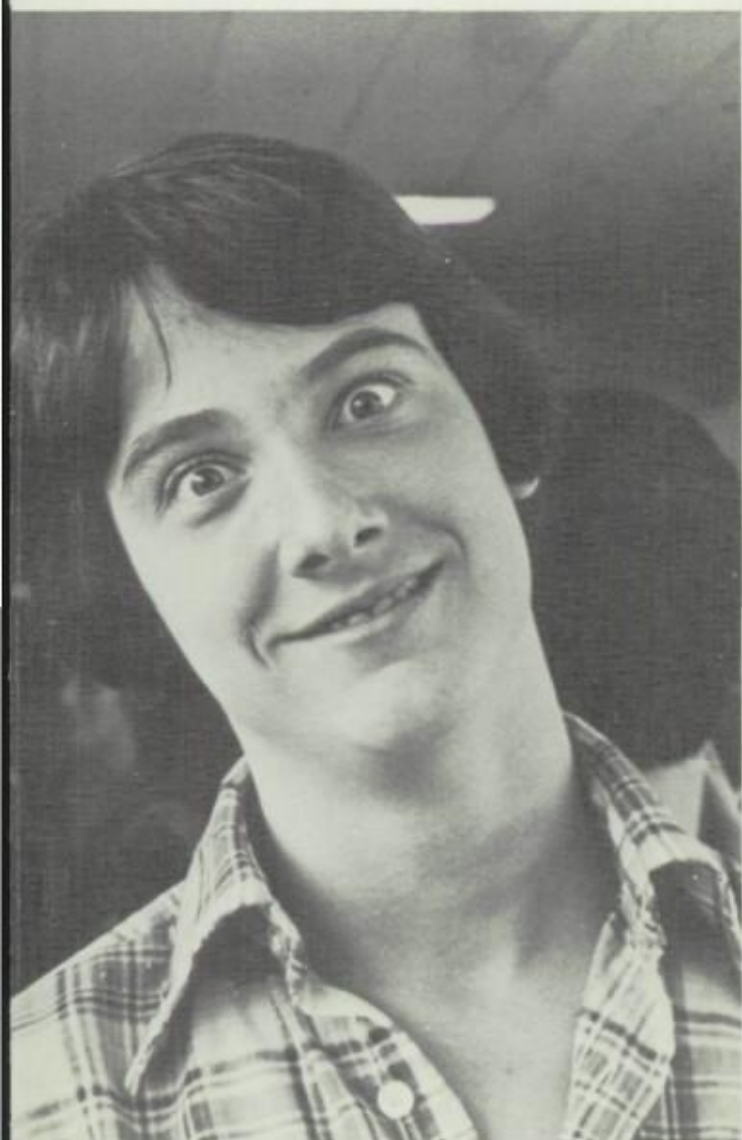

If you were to think back on the eighteen years of life you've experienced you would undoubtedly discover how little you can really remember. It is sometimes hard to remember what happened the day before. The Class of '77 has lived through a tremendous period in history: a time of endless, dizzying, rapid change. We have seen the rise and fall of Vietnam. We have felt the nation grieve at the assassinations of John Kennedy and Martin Luther King. We have seen the first man in space; the first man on the moon; the first landing on Mars. We have seen the end of the draft and have endured the chaos of Watergate. We have witnessed the two hundredth anniversary of our nation's independence. We have listened to the Beatles, the Beach Boys, Bob Dylan, Bruce Springsteen, and Stevie Wonder. We have lived the lives of stars and heroes in "One Hundred and One Dalmations," "Mary Poppins," "Midnight Cowboy," "Love Story," "The Graduate," "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," "The Sting," "The Exorcist," "The Poseidon Adventure," "Jaws," and "All the President's Men." We have tuned our tubes to "Donna Reed," "Ed Sullivan," "Family Affair," "Bonanza," "Batman and Robin," "Gunsmoke," "Mission Impossible," "Mod Squad," "Star Trek," "Bugs Bunny," "Gilligan's Island," "Starsky and Hutch," "Charlie's Angels," and "Rich Man, Poor Man."

And yet amid all the confusion, chaos, and drama of the world we have been together and have spent twelve years growing, learning, and living together. For every one of us it has been different; happy, sad, indifferent. But we have made it through together. We each have meant different things to each other: friend, brother, acquaintance, enemy, stranger. Regardless, we have all contributed to a whole, to a total impression. We have all been affected by our years together, often as much by our enemies as by our friends. Our friends we will never forget — closeness, love, laughter, intimacy shared can never be forgotten. But we do not remember days — we remember moments. Those moments experienced throughout 12, what we had thought, endless years will remain with us always. In the way we smile, in the things we say, in our attitudes, and interests. We are graduating from this school but we can leave behind only the familiar hallways and classrooms. We can truly never separate ourselves from it. It exists with us as an unconscious memory, a distant dream that remains with us always.

Best Wishes to the graduating Class of '77.

It was a good time . . .

*it was the best
time . . .*

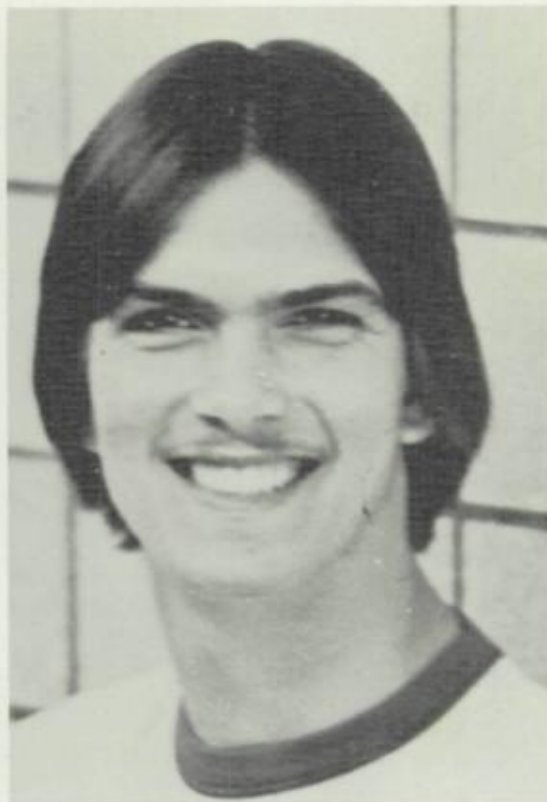

*It was a party,
just to be near
you*

*It was a good time
It was the best
time . . .*

And we believed that it would last forever

we would stay together . . .

*. . . and share
the laughter*

There's never ever a morning after . . .

*It was a good time . . .
It was the best time . . .*

*It seemed a short time . . .
But such a good time.*

Since you're gone and won't be mine again . . .

. . . there are many stars that will not shine again.

except sometimes, deep in my revelry . . .

you return and then, I remember when . . .

Senior Activities

1st Row: J. Kebort, J. Kohler, S. Dragosavic; 2nd Row: A. Stuart, J. Peterson, K. Martin, L. Garcia, C. Kelyman, B. Neugebauer, J. Amato; 3rd Row: L. Griffin, M. Freeman, K. Coscia, L. Page, B. Najarian, C. Farrah, M. Reed.

Senior Activities consists of two students from each of the senior homerooms. Its functions are the selling of namecards and announcements to all seniors at the beginning of the year and holding the senior banquet at the end of the year. At this banquet awards will be given to the senior class. The biggest job for the Activities Council is Commencement at the end of the year. This year graduation will be on Thursday June 2, 1977.

Jeff Kohler

Frank Coppola — Principal

Dear student,

The rush of everyday work sometimes does not permit us to express our true feelings about others. Your administration takes great pride in you the student of Meadville Area Senior High School. We feel our student body not only exhibits a desire to achieve academically but also strives for self-discipline and cooperation with others. As in the past, only with your help, advice, and cooperation will we be able to continually improve our school and make it more comfortable and effective for the students.

As we have observed you mature during the past year we realize that you exemplify what is best about young people. Your exuberance, honesty, compassion, and determination promote positive and optimistic attitudes toward you, the youth of the community.

To the Class of '77 we extend our sincerest wish that your future be fulfilled with happiness and productivity. Please remember we stand ready to assist you at any time. You are welcomed and encouraged to visit your alma mater and its fine staff.

To all of you, we are hopeful that the year at MASH was pleasant and productive.

Guidance

David Bowser
Senior Counselor

David Bowser is new to MASH this year. He has taken over the position of Senior Guidance Counselor with confidence and competence and along with this position has assumed all the trials and tribulations of helping seniors decide their futures.

Shirley Medvid
Junior Counselor

As junior counselor, Mrs. Medvid deals with the needs of students who are just beginning to probe the details of college enrollment. She keeps them informed of all academic tests such as PSAT's.

Sophomore Counselor

All sophomores coming to MASH get to know Mr. Ende. He sets up all schedules for them, and is always available for conferences in case any conflicts arise — which always occur when trying to schedule 400 students.

Attendance

George Deshner

George Deshner is Meadville High's Jack-of-all-trades with almost as many jobs as he has friends (and that's a lot!). He is Head of Attendance for Crawford Central School District, Activities Director for MASH, Treasurer of the activities account, sophomore and junior activities advisor, and advisor to various MASH clubs. This is the first year he has not participated actively as a science teacher. He was born in Meadville and attended MASH. He recalls, "I had no desire to become a teacher when entering college. I only went to Edinboro because my three best friends from high school were going there. All through college I feared teaching because I hated to get in front of a group. After I did my student teaching I wanted nothing more than to become a teacher. It was really rewarding working with high school age students. The youth of our nation are one of the most important resources we have for the future. This is one resource that needs developing to the fullest potential. By working with students in all areas, I hope I can contribute to the development of this resource."

When asked about his high school days he remembers, "I was charged by a teacher for inciting a riot, in the classroom. A friend had told a joke at the beginning of the period and about ten of us laughed. I was the only one who got any detention. The teacher swore she would take it to the principal and the superintendent to have me thrown out (just for laughing at a joke). At the end of the period I walked up to her, tore up the detention notice, threw it on her desk, and told her to contact my lawyer. I lucked out (or rather she did) in that I never heard anything more. Can you ever imagine anything like this happening at MASH? It really did." If he manages to find a moment to himself he enjoys hunting and fishing with friends, skiing with friends or with the club at MASH, and refinishing antique furniture. He also spends time working on his cottage at the Lake after which he might go out on the lake with his boat. His advice to others? "Be yourself and let your conscience be your guide. Friends can be a great influence on you now and not always be a positive influence. Friends come and go but yourself will always be with you, and you most of all know what you want out of life.

Nancy Bernadez
Head Librarian

Nancy Bernadez comes to our library from our own MASH English department, where she taught last year. She has made several changes as head librarian, and plans to keep our library on an even keel. Some of you may also recognize the name from the Bark credits last year — where she was advisor. For those of you who don't know her, you will undoubtedly meet her on those frequent trips to the library as term papers grow near.

Shirl Gerlach

If you have ever been involved with Shirl Gerlach undoubtedly he has impressed you as being individualistic. He radiates an enthusiasm for teaching that can be viewed as nothing less than spectacular in reference to his past. "I hated school, was truant much of the time, and did little work when in school. The principal suggested that there seemed little point to my continuing. So I quit." Obviously the desire to teach was NOT a driving force in his struggle to make a life for himself in the world. He recalls, "I had no early ambition to become anything." He was born near Slippery Rock and moved with his family to Meadville when he was fourteen years old. Most of his adult life was spent in other states and countries. "I returned to Meadville," he explains, "because it is the nicest place I have ever lived." Away from school and with himself he enjoys thinking, working with his homing pigeons, golfing, gardening, and reading. When asked what advice he would give to students he replied, "I don't like to give advice. Trying to understand and manage myself is a full time job."

Pat Smith

A friend to everyone at MASH is Pat Smith. Born in Meadville he grew up among surroundings familiar to us all. He attended Meadville High School and while there was a player on MASH's State Championship Volleyball Team coached by Ken Nelson. In his senior year he was one of the two members on the senior six chosen by the faculty. Teaching was not his first choice of professions. He had once considered dentistry, but in the end entered college with teaching as his goal. Why? In his own words, "A job is a job and I like it." He enjoyed the prospect of dealing with young people and was attracted by the amount of vacation time teachers receive. Pat is very sports oriented and spends his free time engaging in various sports activities including coaching Meadville's Volleyball squad. This is a time consuming and demanding job but one which he really enjoys. Under his guidance Meadville's Spikers have boasted many fine seasons. After a lifetime in Meadville what's his advice to students striking out into the world? "Just take care of your own lives — and stop worrying about how others live — especially if they are just a bit different than you think is normal."

Occupational Experience

Paula Terejko

"To be a good teacher I think one must want to teach more than anything else. Therefore, I have known that I would be a teacher ever since elementary school. (I know that sounds corny — but it really is the truth!)" That's how Paula Terejko explains her choice of careers. Born in Springdale, Pa., she attended Allegheny Valley Joint High School and fondly recalls her years there. "I'll never forget the time I played the part of Widow Corney in our high school production of "Oliver." A 200 pound boy played the part of Mr. Bumble. We were in the middle of our big comedy scene in which Mr. Bumble was to become amorous and chase me around the stage while I sang the song "I Shall Scream." Well, we got a huge laugh opening night when Mr. Bumble tripped on one of the props — and of course all 200 pounds of him fell right on top of me. Needless to say, I actually did scream the last few lines of that song!" Why Meadville High School? The answer is simple. When you get a job which is exactly what you want you are ready to move anywhere — even MEADVILLE! Young people, old people; all people she insists, should always be optimistic and learn to laugh at life. "Even when your heart is breaking, if you keep a smile on your face, you'll make others happy and that in turn will help you overcome your difficulties."

Joan Clark

Instead of "All right, class, hand in your homework," Joan Clark might be saying, "Please fasten your seatbelts, now. We are preparing for take-off" if she'd ever followed up her teenage dream to become an airline stewardess. "I was too short!" she explains. Then recalling her days at Sharon Senior High School in her hometown Sharon, Pa., she describes "the time my girlfriend and I were kicked out of geometry class for a week for — you guessed it — talking too much in class! Poor Mr. Nystrom just couldn't take it any longer. Naturally we reformed." She moved to Meadville when her husband was hired by Talon Division of Textron. "Set a goal and work toward it," she advises, "if you really want to go into a profession or line of work don't let people discourage you by saying it is overcrowded or it costs too much. People good at their jobs are always in demand. There is always help financially if you have patience."

Anna Mary Maddy was born in Grove City and for as long as she can remember always wanted to be a teacher. She moved to Meadville when her husband became business manager at Allegheny and thus ended up at MASH in our English Department. "I really like the challenge of taking a class which doesn't know certain things and trying to see if they will change, either in knowledge of facts or in ideas." Of her High School days she recollects, "I had lots of fun working on the year-book staff." In her off hours she enjoys reading, sewing, singing, playing hand bells, and attending concerts. Her advice to young people is, "Be flexible; have a sense of humor."

Armendia Dixon was born in Laurel, Mississippi where she attended Oak Park High School. Although as a girl she didn't dream of becoming a teacher in her mind a profession of service to her fellow man was always present. In her own words, "I became a teacher because, through several experiences, I felt that my gift or talent was teaching." Armendia always enjoyed reading, tending her plants, playing the piano and singing. She offers some profound advice to students: "Broaden your mind through books, travel, etc. Man needs to become 'universal' in his outlook. Respect people and treat each person you meet as a unique individual — a sacred being. Don't ever feel that people have to be like you in order to be 'somebody'. Do your best."

Born in East Mead Township near Guys Mills, Elaine Pratt attended Randolph High School (now Maplewood). She always dreamed of becoming a teacher but found it necessary to work at a great variety of occupations in order to reach her goal including domestic engineering, machine operator, and inspector of slide fasteners. "I like the activities involved in teaching, the variety of the work, the never-a-dull-moment atmosphere. I love learning and working with young people."

Her advice? "Learn as much as you can today because you will need it some time 'tomorrow, tomorrow, and tomorrow.' A small bit of knowledge today may turn into a bundle tomorrow."

Dorcas Minick

Dorcas Minick was born and raised in Connelsville, Pa., which is about 50 miles southeast of Pittsburgh. She attended Connelsville High School, where she "thoroughly enjoyed" herself in both the studies and the extracurricular activities at school. When she began to plan for a career, her first choice was nursing. However, this turned out to be impossible and she turned to teaching. "It was the next best thing to becoming a nurse. I could still help people — in just a little different way." She attended Allegheny College and, like several other teachers whose first taste of Crawford County was while at college, liked Meadville and decided to look for a job in this area, where her sister and family also live. Dorcas enjoys a variety of activities in her leisure time. These include singing, swimming, and sewing. It's also interesting to note that she, like many other teachers, likes to spend any free time reading. What does she say to young people to help them in later life? "Prepare for the future — don't waste your time as you only pass this way but once."

He attended Union's Area Joint High School and then moved out into the cold, cruel world of campus life to pursue his teaching career. Why does he teach? "I need the money — I believe I can help students through the theatre and its experience." But why MASH, you might ask yourself? "I followed the brightest star and landed in A-17." Jerry Weidner

For a lot of people chemistry just wouldn't have been the same without Jerry Weidner — they might have passed! Born in Cambridge Springs he attended Cambridge Springs High School and of his time there remembers the day he got a high school letter for being scorekeeper for basketball. "I didn't know I was getting a letter that day and happened to be wearing bright RED socks. The crowd of students in assembly almost died laughing. I went home and burnt those socks." Time has changed very little: the same class clown is still clowning his way through the day; (only now there's no one who can give him detention). Strangely enough he never thought of becoming a teacher. "After college I worked as a bench chemist in quality controls, was offered a teaching position at Meadville. Decided to change jobs — wonder if I made a mistake???" He had once thought of becoming a computer programmer. Allegheny College brought him to Meadville and he enjoys his life here. When he can find time he walks, gardens, and spends time with his children. To make a life for yourself that's satisfying he suggests, "Be tolerant of all persons, offer advice if asked for advice, assist people in a friendly manner, and let people live their own lives."

Richard Zylak

Richard Zylak grew up in Latrobe, Pa. where he was born. Because he always dreamed of becoming a teacher when he grew up, he decided to go to college. He ended up at Edinboro State College "because it was far from home." After spending some time in this region he began to like the area and decided to look for a job up here. It appears that he succeeded. Richard feels that teaching is a two way street. "Students teach teachers as much as teachers teach students," he often says. While in college Richard had an interesting visit. "One night I was awakened by a knock at my door. When I opened the door I was facing the snow princess. (One of the guys was covered head to toe with shaving cream.) She gave me many big hugs and disappeared into the night. She had visited many people that night and the dorm halls were filled with many of my friends carrying her mark. We laughed long and hard. She still visits us occasionally." With friends like that he should be right at home in MASH science department. In leisure time Richard enjoys athletics — skiing, swimming, and basketball. He feels the most important advice for students is to be cheerful. "No matter how low you go, you can always get lower!"

Sally Stanford recalls her high school years with a fond smile. "I was and am a procrastinator!" Born on a farm in Cussewago Township, she went to Cambridge Springs High and there decided that she would be a dietician. How did she end up in A-39 teaching math? "I really enjoy 'kids' and I like to think I am helping them to learn something that they might not had had they not had me for a teacher. Take criticism with a grain of salt. Never be discouraged. Laugh at yourself — try to help others; it takes your mind off yourself. Love everyone — don't ever run anyone down."

Junior Activities Council is a busy group that serves an important school role. In October we had a candy sale and in February we will sponsor the annual magazine drive and this year we are expecting to better the sum by a considerable amount. The profits from this will be used to put on the Senior Prom, which is the main purpose that we have. We have the great responsibility of making all the necessary preparations to insure a successful prom. We meet quite frequently and run our meetings on an informal basis. Our council is composed of many hard workers representing each junior homeroom, is led by four elected officers, and is advised by Mr. Deshner.

— Orthodontics Monthly

Remember when I double dated for the 1976 Prom and my best friend (I'll call "Steamer") steamed up my ex-boyfriend's car windows. Ha! Ha! And I was jealous! (no, not really)

Remember when Mr. Lumley had hair. (Somebody Must!)

Remember when the swim team didn't have practice in September and when we thought Bears were just animals and found out the truth.

Remember when Jeff Koehler and me got caught a Roach Park when we were sophomores. And Coach found out! Why are you laughing Kebort? You were there too.

Remember when you would count the years until you graduate.

Remember when A-19 was just another room not a branch campus for North Warren; when yearbook staff knew nothing of Special Weapons and Tactics and didn't need to; when somebody wasn't complaining about something; when the editors had one last chance of keeping their sanity; when windows were windows and not doors; when "qui" was a french word for "who."

Remember when S.W. and K.R., K.B. and B.B. used to go for one evening without fighting.

"Leech! Why would he do that with his red pen?!?"

"She'll be Okay, really. She just gets like this when she sits in the sun too long."

It was all so simple once . . .

"I wonder if he can play trumpet?"

"And THEY said they couldn't think of a caption!!"

"Hmmm . . . I wonder why he always slobbers when he says his 'S' 's."

Yearbook Staff after a long day "Busting Loose."

Remember when we started first grade and only dreamed of being seniors and graduating.

Linda, remember our great memorable experience on Friday the 13th (just for them Laker guys, huh?)

Remember when Big Bird's name was Dan.

Remember when Kurt came to class and Buddha got lost on Oil City's double reverse.

Remember when I didn't wear tennis shoes.

Remember when you could skip fifth period.

Remember when Sheri Dimartino's boot flew off at the fair grounds, in the middle of "Sky High."

Remember when Shady Brook, before the basketball games was well worthwhile.

Rick Fugate — Treasurer, Sheri DiMartino — Secretary, Kris Moore — Vice President, Chris Allegretti — President.

We the officers of sophomore activities Chris Allegretti — President, Kris Moore — Vice-President, Sheri DiMartino — Secretary, and Rick Fugate — Treasurer, are primarily involved in fund raising activities to aid our sophomore class in future years. With the aid of homeroom representatives and Mr. Deshner, our activities director, we planned many fund raising activities for this year.

Among these activities are a spring carnival, the sale of bulldog hats, numerous bake sales, and working at the senior prom.

We hope that these funds that we are striving to attain will make the class of 79 a special class in MASH history.

Respectfully yours,

Chris Allegretti

Remember when clubs seemed to run themselves!!!

Remember when my life was so simple . . . although I certainly won't complain now!

Remember when I had a collision with a tree (B.G.'s fault)

Remember when "Squeegy" quit and Drag almost had a heart attack.

Remember when there was heat in the cafeteria.

I remember when the word "friend" meant something!

Remember when it was too cold to go to school.

Remember when Outdoors Club existed, I liked English, Ms. Johns was single.

Remember when the narcs hanged out in the Vo-Tech parking lot when Dio was here.

"I'm taking a survey of young innocent couples . . ."

"What did you do to my apple?!"

"Do you feel the effects of these grasshoppers yet, Amy?" "No, but this hamster is really getting to me, Debbie."

Parting is such sweet sorrow.

"And what do you think you're doing?"

Remember when we couldn't wait till we were in High School and now it's just a memory of the past.

Linda and Becky, remember the 7 of us and Ken with his flashlight.

Remember when we thought Senior High was a scary place.

Remember when someone pushed the lockers over by the lounge, hoping for a chain reaction? Better luck next time.

Remember when Mr. Matthews told a joke.

Remembering when conquering the world took only one night.

Remember when future plans were something that could be put off until tomorrow.

Remember when the ice on the school pond wasn't quite strong enough to hold my weight.

Remember when no one wanted to "remember it well." I think it was about half way through the third "Ah Yes . . ."

Remember when Mr. Cappola and Mr. Gaus played leap frog through the glass corridor? I don't either!

Remember when we all went camping for a week at Pymatuning and L.S. turned into a Boogie Bird.

Remember when we did Fifth Avenue and Raisin Bran commercials in the glass corridor.

"Good Friends are like distant stars — we never fully realize their value before they have faded too far to be but a glowing memory."

He went out with who?!?

He just said hello to me!

I wonder who he's with now?

I'll bet he'll go out with me!

I went out with him!

Is that him following me?

I think I'm in love!

Maybe if I write him a note.

Didn't I tell you he was my man?

He better not go out with her!

I wonder if it was my breath?

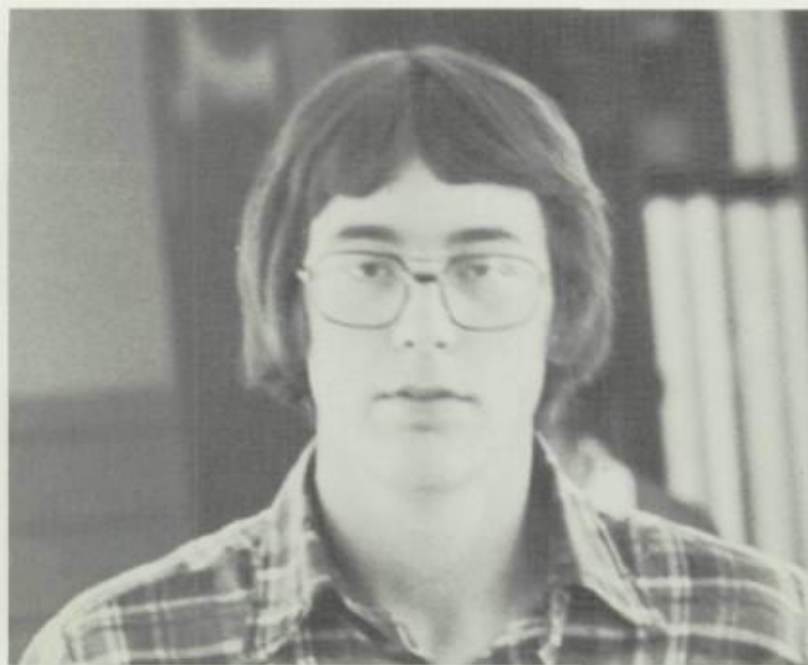

"Shoot, go ahead, they did . . ."

". . . and look at us now!"

My stare has improved 100%.

Boy do I feel great!

And my stare has improved 200%.

"And I can no longer close my mouth!"

I wish the D.J. couple and S.S. all the luck and happiness there is.

Remember when Yalla and I crashed.

I wish I didn't have to move to Virginia and before I go to go out with a certain someone.

Remember when there used to be good concerts in Erie and diving practice wasn't so hard.

I wish all the luck to my sisters, Debbie and Darla, in their years left at MASH;
but be good girls!

Remembered we were all so straight? (What happened?)

I wish for Shauna to graduate in '81 and return the same as she left.

I wish to get a new car or truck and to have a good job in the future.

I wish Mr. Stamm would get a stone-fox of his own so he won't have to flirt with mine.

I wish for Thumper to be soccer captain next year and Chico to have a great team.

I remember my first day of first grade . . . I missed the bus.

To all FUTURE MEMBERS OF THE PLAYERS ASSOCIATION — "break a leg" and don't chew gum.

Remember when I used to spend a whole day in school!!

I wish for the chance to go to Hawaii.

Jennie Wills, I wish you the best of luck in your last two years of school, and don't forget the times we worked in the library together. And you can't forget Ed. —
Joy

Remember when Renee and I didn't know each other and Connie had straight hair.

I wish my little sister Sherri the best of luck in the future and my "two children" lots of love and happiness always.

I wish my little sis luck when she sneaks out of her house late at night.

Remember when Mr. Beltz said, "wait a while, wait a while," and Mr. Shank said, "That's why the grass is green," and Mrs. Williams told us that slow down was not in our vocabulary?

Charlie's Angels

"Do the Hustle . . ."

Life is a mellow boogie.

"I wonder if it was my breath?"

I wish that the memories of my senior year will always stay with me because of all the beautiful experiences I've had and all my special friends.

I wish Pun Deb as much happiness next year as I've had this year.

I wish everyone a prosperous healthy life and plenty of distance between them and here.

I wish that Mrs. Stanford had a better 2nd period and everyone in the class of '77 "Good Luck"!

I wish that this school district would adopt some of the policies suggested by the National Council on Adolescence and High School Education.

I wish a Hula girl to Mac, a stuck transposer button to V.B., and a key chain to Jay.

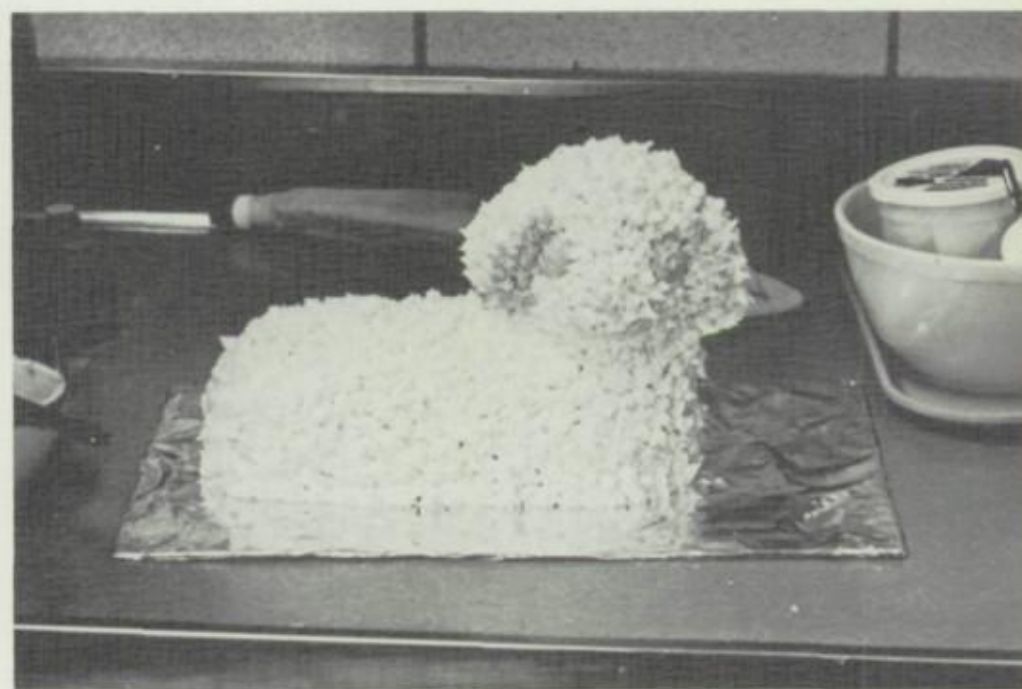

I wish . . . that everyone's dreams may become reality.

I wish for a Balance.

I wish Jill J. and Jim W. as much happiness and love as Jay and I have.

Foreign Exchange Student

Ann created this Easter Lamb cake for her parents in home-ec. class.

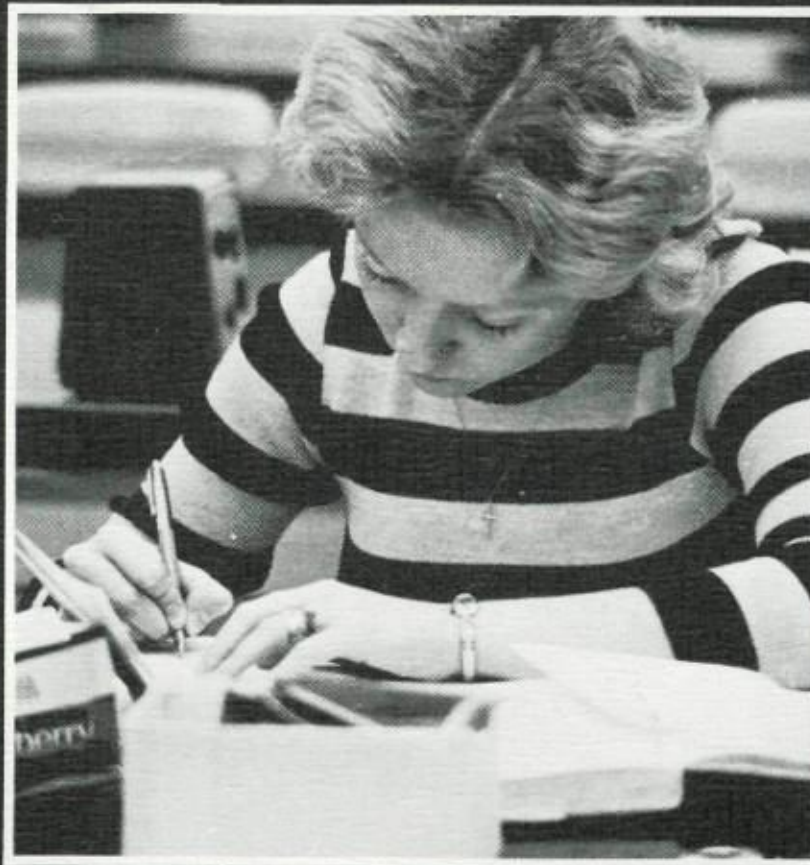

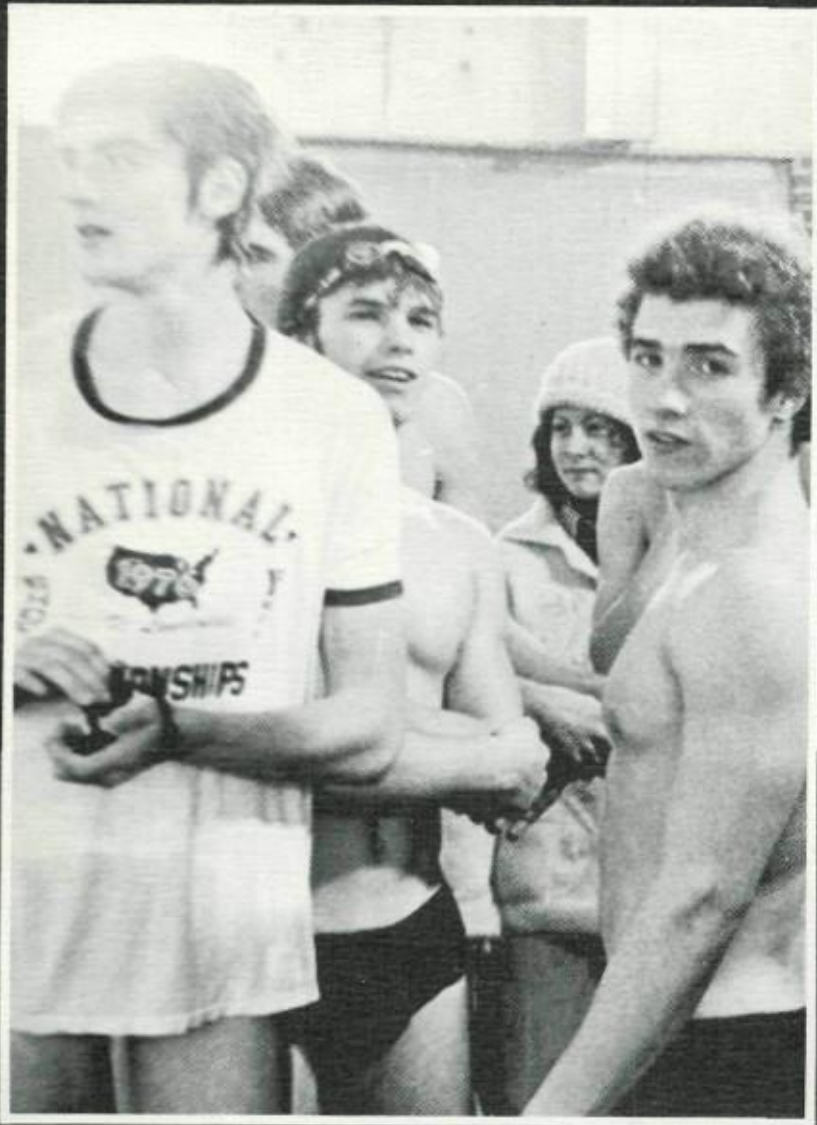

My year here at M.A.S.H. has been a great experience and I have really enjoyed the school and everything that goes with it. I have made a lot of friends and everybody has been so nice towards me, which I appreciate a lot.

Being on the Girls' Volleyball Team has taught me the importance of team spirit and comradeship. When I go back to Denmark, I will be rich in memories and will never forget all the things all of you have done for me.

Thank you so much!

This year the Bark was under the direction of editors Tracy Douglass and Michele Hogan and advisor Mrs. Clark. The purpose of the Bark is to entertain and inform the student body as we spent many a 5th period trying to achieve this goal. Small but mighty, this year's staff was composed of all seniors and one junior. Bob Brown and Steve Dragosavac (the ex-convicts) headed up the sports while Kathy Dempsey, Shauna Hotchkiss, John Pete, Suzie Perry, Rich Kebort, and Carol Weison put forth great efforts toward the production of the Bark. Hopefully next year interest in the Bark will increase as it proves to be an interesting and exciting activity.

In the past, man has seemed to have separated himself from nature. The last few years have seen a readjustment of values. Man is becoming more aware of the necessity of the natural environment. With this in mind the Environmental Club has geared itself towards getting people involved in the outdoors. To enhance the sensitivity of students and faculty, the club has developed a controlled environment within the enclosed area of the school. This is a continuous project that the club will be working on for years. Also, members of the club have shown an interest in the community by working with the Humane Society and at the Baldwins—Reynolds house. Finally each spring, a club sponsored camping trip gives the members a leisure-filled escape to nature.

If you took the Keystone Cops, the Little Rascals, Mission Impossible, the Three Musketeers, and the Twilight Zone and rolled them all into one, stuck in a few mental health public service announcements, and added a "JAWS" soundtrack, you'd end up with a program you'd probably call "Papier Maché Menagerie," "Gidget Goes to North Warren," or maybe "Godzilla vs. the Brady Bunch," and would most likely choose to show it during select national emergencies and on Sunday mornings between sermonette and sign-off. That seems to be the most appropriate way to begin a description of Language Club's first year of existence. Our activities began way back in the spring of last year and have led this gang on adventures of limitless imagination, absurdity, and hilarity. There have been many stops on this incredible journey and the friends and good times accumulated along the way have been a fantastic reward. The INSANITY looms in my mind.

Our first annual Foreign Christmas Dinner was a tremendous success! Everyone enjoyed great (and different!!) foods from around the world and had a great time working together.

Painsville . . . The final frontier. These are the voyages of the Foreign Language Club.

It's one day mission to seek out new life and new civilizations. To boldly go where no man has gone before (Painsville — HO!) Captain's log: (Stardate 0101376) While on a search for a reported Foreign Language Festival the "Enterplease" has discovered an alien civilization whose primitive society is structured about some bizarre religious conception of the dog. They live in primitive shelters and their primary defense is to infect disease in intruders and to hurl their minds into the bottomless pits of blackest despair.

Language Club Cops Top Prize

Only Language Club could be expected to attempt it. Build a float in twenty-four hours? Todd, Fred, and Tim madly papier-machéd trees all night and with the rest of the club the next day insanely rushed to finish the float — the winning float — for the Annual Jaycees Halloween Parade. Even though the paint never did dry and Marcia (alias the "Tree"), was later heard to say "Being a tree is ____," (expletive deleted). We won first prize of one hundred and fifty dollars in the youth division. It was over before it had begun: the frantic pace was ended — silence . . . awe and disbelief settled over us all. And as a light fall rain drizzled through the failing twilight the dazed laughter of victory echoed faintly into the night. The sleepless hysteria — born on the rising moon — in relief dissolved and with the paint that never did dry, began to run collecting with the cool rains in pools like water-color memories. The trees slowly sagged beyond recognition while someone in a corner with a proud and exhausted smile chanted softly: "We won — we won — we won."

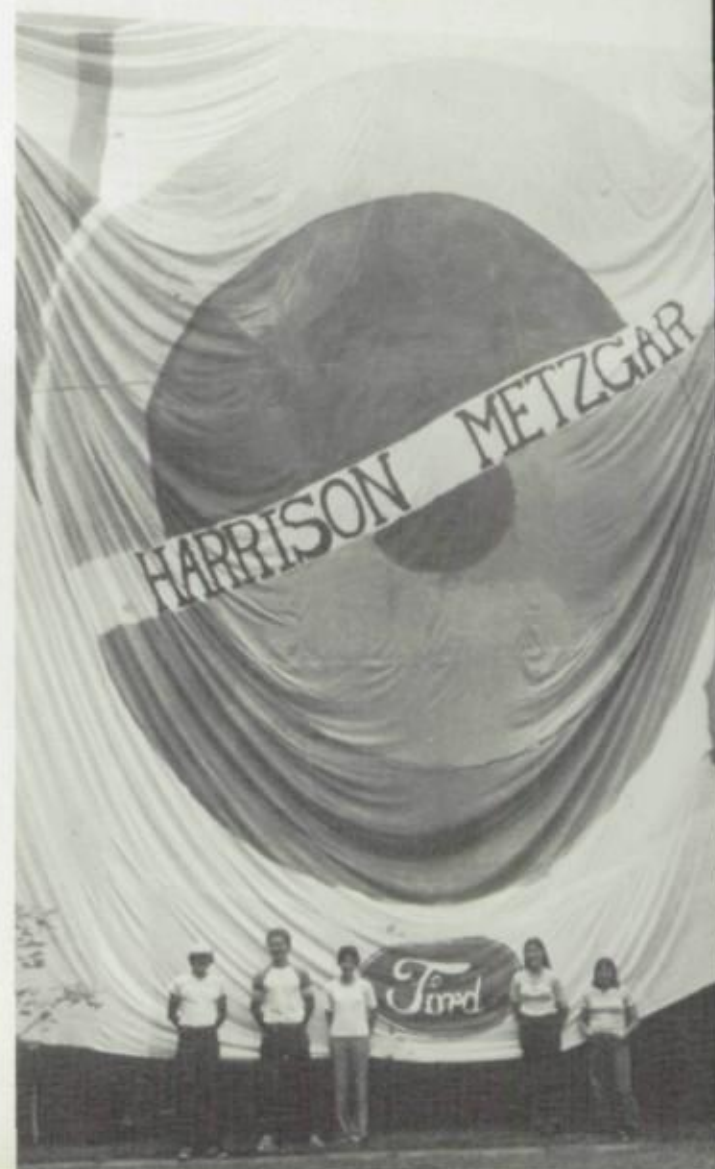

For one-half million dollars he was to assassinate one of the most powerful, most influential men in the world. They had twenty-four hours to find him and stop him: just one day

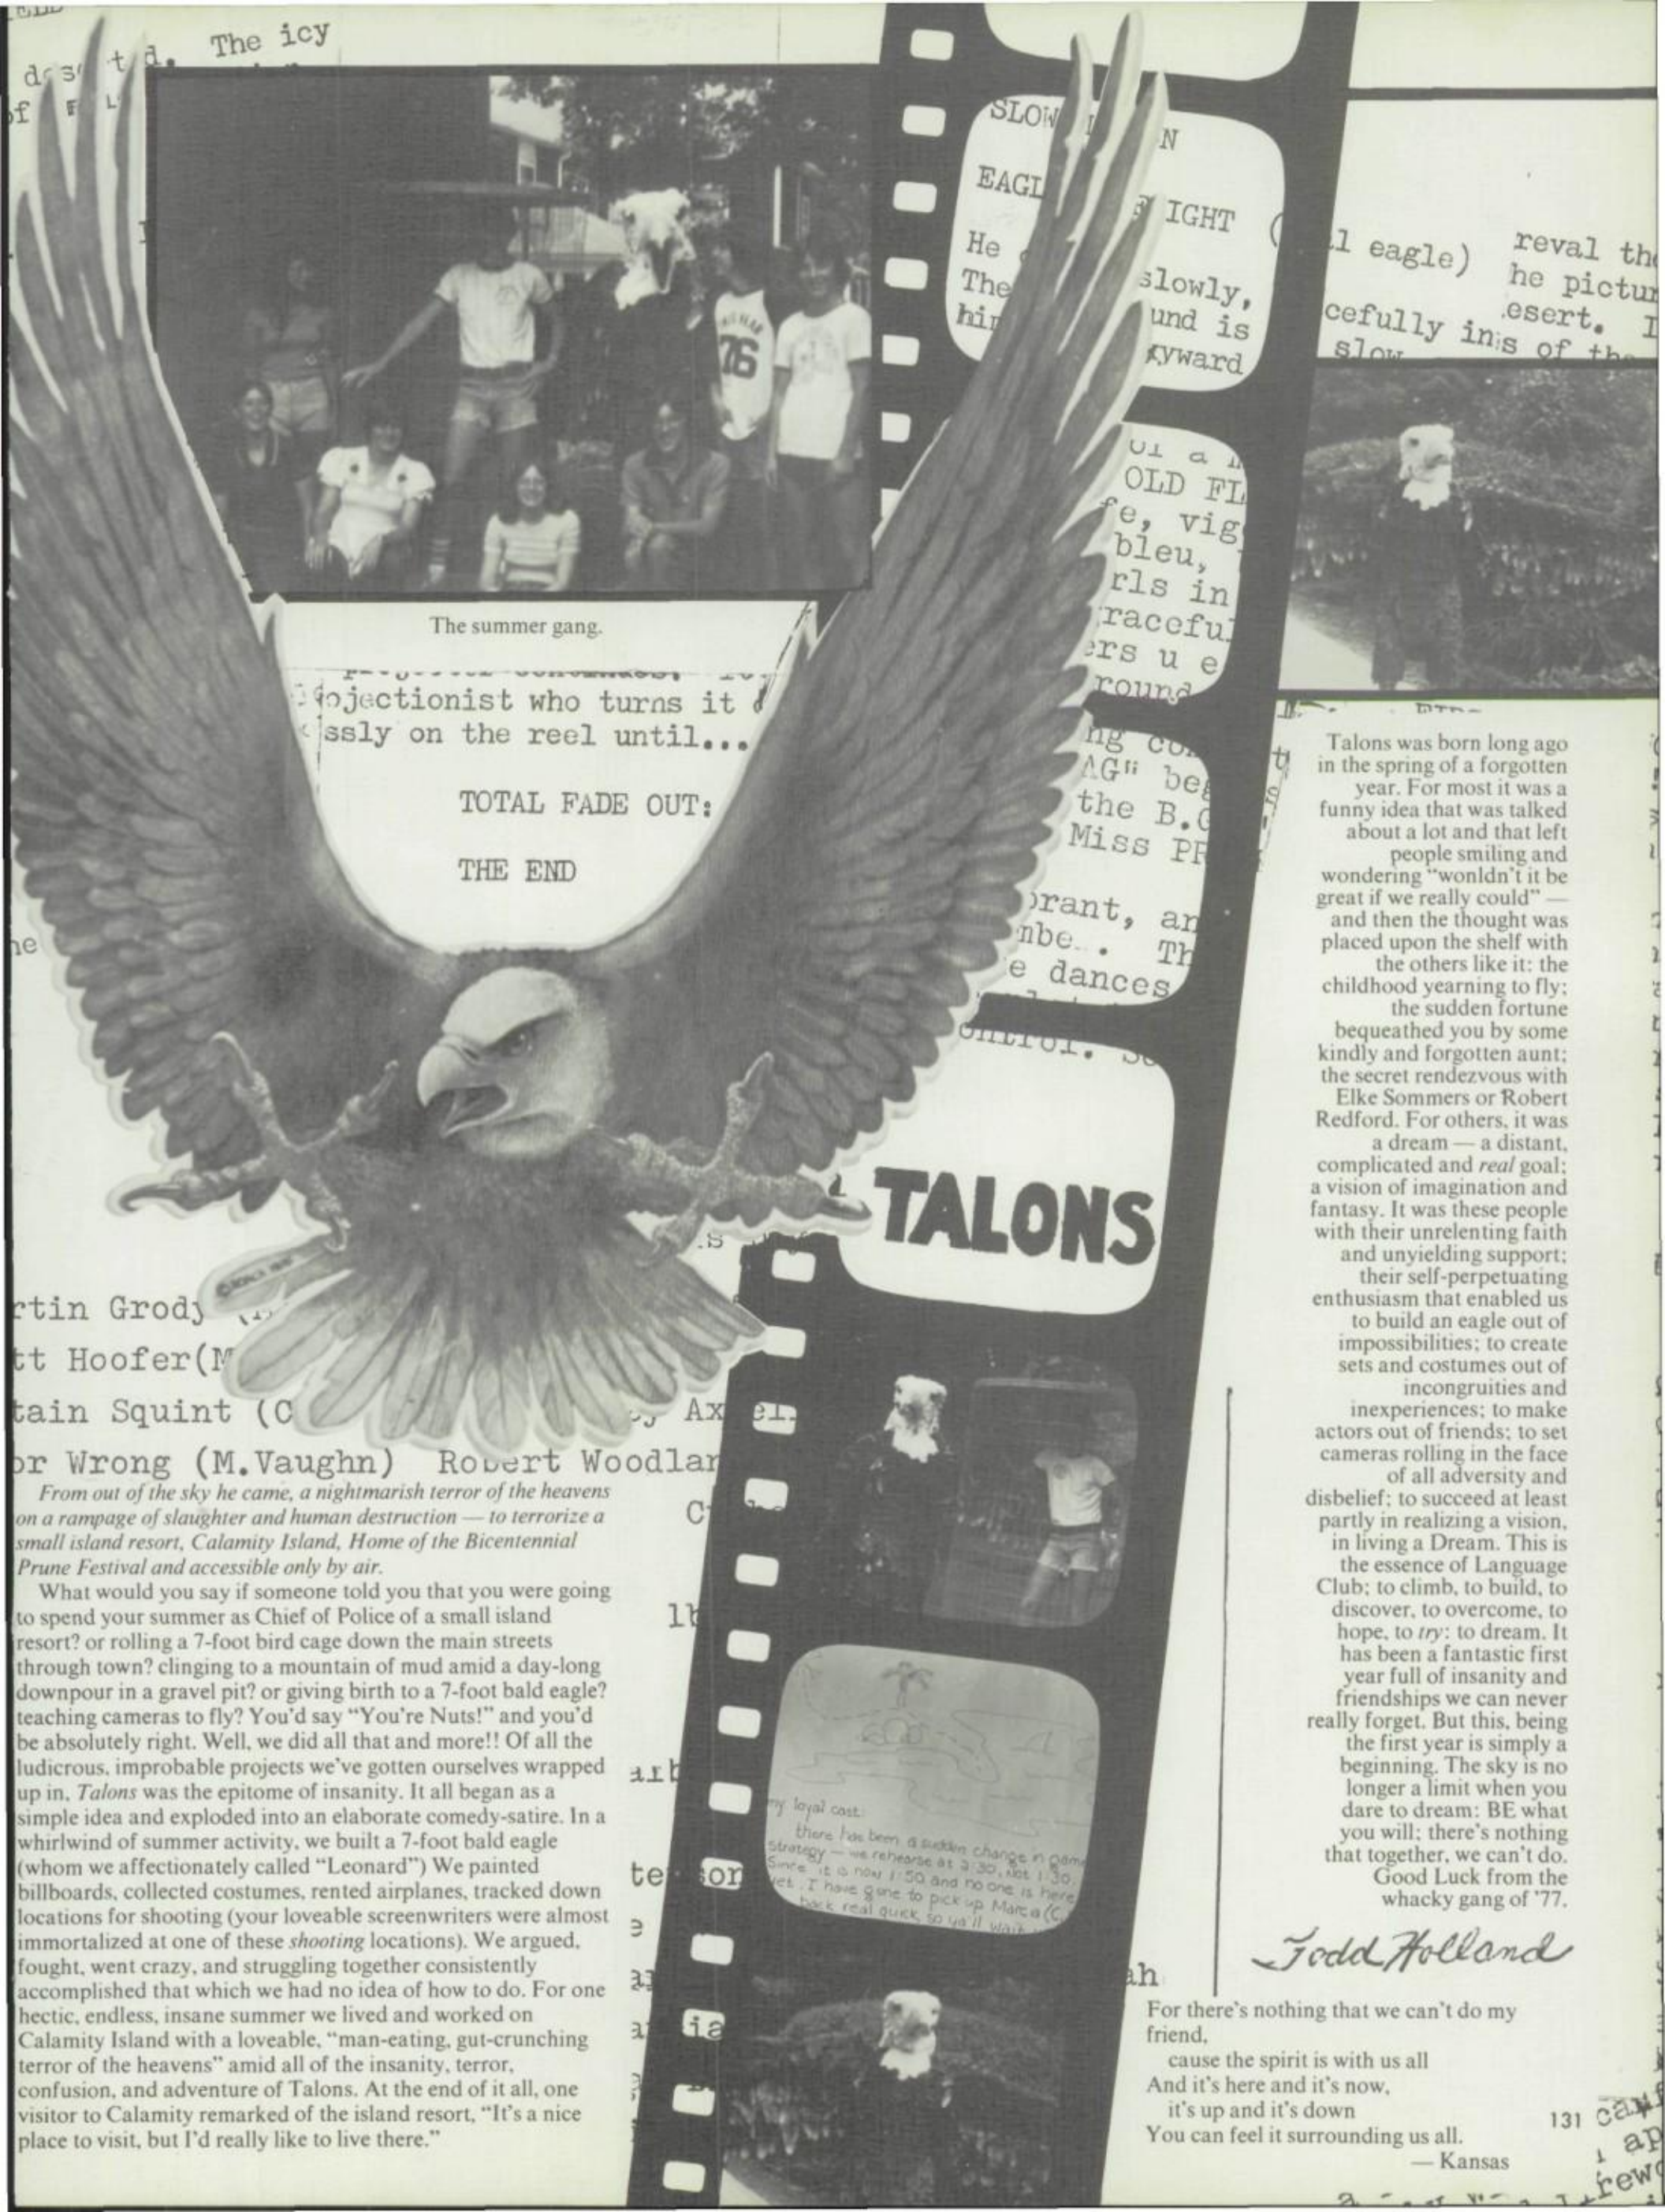

the DAY of the JACKAL

The Titanic, the Chicago Fire, and San Francisco Earthquake, the Alamo, and prune cobbler have all taken their respective places of dishonor in the annals of disaster history. So then has Language Club with its own "The Day of the Jackal." A spectre of Catastrophe which haunts the vacant halls of its financial records. Little can be said about the record-breaking film flop save "REST IN PEACE." Yet as visions of splendidly flaming banners smolder in my mind, those probing words echo through my memory: "Sure, I'll advertise your movie festival tonight, but will you respect me in the morning?!" The answer comes as a resounding "NO."

In a bizarre scheme to finance TALONS last summer, we masterminded the great twin-fitted rip-off which ended up being just a great pile of "sheet." What we actually did was enter the Harrison-Metzgar Sign Design contest. As all the "summer set" must remember we nearly killed ourselves trying to finish it before the July 1st deadline. We begged, borrowed and stole sheets from anybody and everybody that had them (including the city morgue). Slaving under the dim light of the stars, we frantically stitched and patched our way to completion — and ended up painting in the basement of the Baptist Church. The $200 prize was not to be ours, however. Our masterpiece (constructed of some 30 sheets for a total area of over 1400 sq. feet!) was "out-bigged" by a paper thing (strangely resembling a large dirty grocery bag scribbled on with crayon). A little ballot box stuffing and some "bitty witches" kept us from a 1st place in the "best" category. We returned home, our grievances silenced by a $50 pay off, with a collection of demonstration records, a heap of messed up sheets, a lot of memories and paint stains a good taste of social injustice.

From out of the sky he came, a nightmarish terror of the heavens on a rampage of slaughter and human destruction — to terrorize a small island resort, Calamity Island, Home of the Bicentennial Prune Festival and accessible only by air.

What would you say if someone told you that you were going to spend your summer as Chief of Police of a small island resort? or rolling a 7-foot bird cage down the main streets through town? clinging to a mountain of mud amid a day-long downpour in a gravel pit? or giving birth to a 7-foot bald eagle? teaching cameras to fly? You'd say "You're Nuts!" and you'd be absolutely right. Well, we did all that and more!! Of all the ludicrous, improbable projects we've gotten ourselves wrapped up in, Talons was the epitome of insanity. It all began as a simple idea and exploded into an elaborate comedy-satire. In a whirlwind of summer activity, we built a 7-foot bald eagle (whom we affectionately called "Leonard") We painted billboards, collected costumes, rented airplanes, tracked down locations for shooting (your loveable screenwriters were almost immortalized at one of these shooting locations). We argued, fought, went crazy, and struggling together consistently accomplished that which we had no idea of how to do. For one hectic, endless, insane summer we lived and worked on Calamity Island with a loveable, "man-eating, gut-crunching terror of the heavens" amid all of the insanity, terror, confusion, and adventure of Talons. At the end of it all, one visitor to Calamity remarked of the island resort, "It's a nice place to visit, but I'd really like to live there."

Talons was born long ago in the spring of a forgotten year. For most it was a funny idea that was talked about a lot and that left people smiling and wondering "wouldn't it be great if we really could" — and then the thought was placed upon the shelf with the others like it: the childhood yearning to fly; the sudden fortune bequeathed you by some kindly and forgotten aunt; the secret rendezvous with Elke Sommers or Robert Redford. For others, it was a dream — a distant, complicated and real goal: a vision of imagination and fantasy. It was these people with their unrelenting faith and unyielding support; their self-perpetuating enthusiasm that enabled us to build an eagle out of impossibilities; to create sets and costumes out of incongruities and inexperience; to make actors out of friends; to set cameras rolling in the face of all adversity and disbelief; to succeed at least partly in realizing a vision, in living a Dream. This is the essence of Language Club; to climb, to build, to discover, to overcome, to hope, to try: to dream. It has been a fantastic first year full of insanity and friendships we can never really forget. But this, being the first year is simply a beginning. The sky is no longer a limit when you dare to dream: BE what you will; there's nothing that together, we can't do. Good Luck from the whacky gang of '77.

For there's nothing that we can't do my friend, cause the spirit is with us all
And it's here and it's now,
it's up and it's down
You can feel it surrounding us all.

southward in a major offensive. Transania and New Zenith remained poised along the battle line. The world was alarmed. The rest of us were when we realized that Dangerous Parallel wasn't quite as dangerous as we thought it was. Dangerous Parallel was a simulation in international diplomacy which was based on the historical crisis between North and South Korea. We had a good time and learned a lot from it (one thing being not to try cheating when you're playing "God" — you get caught). All in all, it was a good year. We kept active but more importantly, laid a foundation of organization that, hopefully, will be carried on through the succeeding years, bigger, stronger, more fun, and more worthwhile than ever before.

We got the club started early in the year with a newspaper drive on October 9th. The weather was unseasonably humid that day (a few less courageous members laid plans for the official club ark, planning to take two of each kind of IRCite: "Active" and "Inactive"). The rest of us, however, did not concern ourselves with the project — since we hadn't been given 3 days notice it wouldn't have been a FORMAL ark anyway. All in all we collected over 6 tons of newspaper — it was great! (Then we had to figure out what to do with it). It took us almost a week to get rid of it all. We had a number of bake sales and many meetings with a variety of guest speakers. A Halloween party concluded the majority of our activities for a time. This was a year of reevaluation for IRC. We drew up a new (and vastly more useful) constitution — a process which took a tremendous amount of time! When it was all over we had agreed not to take a major trip this year and were considering proposals to support a PEACE CORPS project.

The crisis worsened later in the year as Hameel forced its way

Each year IRC sends a delegation of 10-12 members to attend the Model U.N. Assembly at Ganon College in Erie. Members break into 3 or 4 major groups to debate and discuss particular issues which might actually appear before the United Nations. Eventually all members form the General Assembly which votes on all motions which have been presented by each group. This year, due to an extensive power struggle between Democratic and Communist nations, no Bill was passed.

Nike

Nike Club is a career club established to develop initiative, leadership, and awareness of career opportunities. It is also a service club for the school and community. A field trip to Indiana University of Pennsylvania to see some of the career possibilities a large college has to offer was another one of our activities.

Service projects: A Christmas Party for a needy family, helping the Salvation Army's Christmas collection, and in February assisting the Red Cross with their Heart Fund Drive.

Social activities included parties for various holidays, group hayrides, roller skating, ice skating, and a trip in the summer.

Finally, various fund raising activities were shared by each member to accomplish all of the above.

The purpose of the Forensics Club is to develop your speaking ability, which will be a asset to you in your life. There are many benefits to be gained from being a Forensics member: the ability to speak to a large group of people with poise, (i.e. without your knees shaking), a knowledge of literature and current events, the ability to speak clearly and make yourself understood, and finally good sportsmanship in competition. Our special project this year is performing for various community organizations. We spend many a Saturday morning getting up early and traveling to various tournaments. We also spend many hours in practice for competition.

Student Council

This year Student Council has been involved with improving relationships between faculty and students and in promoting school spirit. We are improving on both Homecoming and Red and Black week. We are renting a juke box to be put in the cafeteria with the new tables. Other ideas we are working on are a suggestion-excuse box, making of sports programs, and acquiring more senior privileges such as all seniors being admitted free to the first section basketball games and being excused from school if they have a 7th period study hall. For Christmas, we are having a door decorating contest and purchasing a tree to add a little Xmas spirit to our halls.

In the spring we hope to have a student council picnic to close the year.

The Student Advisory Council consists of fifteen to twenty students selected by the administration to represent various viewpoints of the student body. We keep the administration up to date on student reaction to policies, from discipline to curriculum, criticize existing programs if needed and encourage good programs whenever possible. Because our main purpose is to offer advice and suggestions to the administration, student council, and students themselves; we are an advisory group as opposed to a governing group like student council. We hope to obtain better communication between students and administration, get students involved in school problems, and improve MASH in any way possible beyond the scope of student government. Some of our past improvements include ala carte lunch lines, the establishment of card playing in school, and an admission free basketball game for seniors.

ONE FLEW OVER THE CUCKOO'S NEST

The Players of 76-77 worked themselves literally into the ground presenting 4 major productions of great variety and challenge. They began the year with a Story Theatre Tour of eight elementary schools, with a production schedule that boast 16 shows and 5 days, and played to over 2,000 children! Their second production was the highly acclaimed One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, which was very well accepted by the student body and especially the community. Following this challenge the Player's will take on Shakespeare's A Midsummer's Night Dream and the children's classic Androcles and the Lion. The group is also planning several trips to see plays and is planning an awards banquet later in the season. Mr. Peluso is the group's director.

M.A.S.H. Yearbook Layout Staff '77

Few people realize, (or really care), how much work goes into the birth of a yearbook. It is a painfully slow process that always begins in late summer. That's when we first go out and start collecting ads, (this is a part of the yearbook that never seems to end — and one that's UNIVERSALLY hated by all!). One important thing to realize is that the yearbook financially is completely independent of the school district. We must earn every cent of the over seven-thousand dollars needed each year to publish the "Saga." That's a big responsibility! Then we start selling book subscriptions in school — that's when we really appreciate aggressive salespeople! The biggest part of the yearbook though is the making of the book itself. Every page must be laid out, (hence the name "Yearbook Layout"), exactly as it is to appear. To do this we have to collect literally thousands of pictures, keep track of hundreds of write-ups from coaches, teachers, club officers, seniors and countless others. The insanity of it all is the collecting because it takes so much time but seems as though you're getting nothing done. We spend half of every school year in the art room, (Yearbook Headquarters at MASH). We really kill ourselves trying to meet deadlines, (which we usually do — give or take a week or two). The unfortunate part of Yearbook is that from November to March it's all solid deadlines. We work sometimes 12-14 hours a day sacrificing our weekends and vacations to get the book done. The Layout staff received no money, no prizes, no rewards. All we can hope for is your praise. We have simply the memories of long, crazy endless insane nights when homework never got done and sleep was something you tried not to think about. Doors became windows, windows became deadly (we chalked up our first official yearbook casualty this year!); time slowed to a standstill, we fought, wrestled, battled and crutched each other until the bitter end. All this means very little to the majority of you, we're sure — simply words that don't concern you. We have done our best to make the '77 Saga the best MASH has ever seen. It isn't easy. There are always complaints — sometimes we just can't stand to hear them anymore. Then we work all the harder to make it better — make it what you want. There's a great deal of pride that goes into a yearbook. We'd like to express our deepest appreciation to everyone that helped make a very difficult job easier — especially Sandy and the Second shift.

We hope when you look at this yearbook you will do so objectively — comparing it to the quality of past yearbooks, considering the difficulty in making each year's book new and different, and thinking about all the time and dedication it represents. It's been a good year and we hope the "77 Saga" will reflect to a degree your feelings and memories of your days at MASH. Good Luck to the Class of '77!

Sincerely,

Janice Sipos

Many thanks to those faithful few that helped us make it to the bitter end, especially Patty and Marcia.

Todd, Janice, and Kurt: this terrible threesome have been editing yearbooks for three solid years — a school record (few survive this long). Their experience and dedication has paid off many times over: our last three yearbooks have been of successively superior quality. "We always thought that 'next year' we'd be more organized or that 'next year' we wouldn't make so many mistakes." Well, all the mistakes have been made, and all the yearbooks published, "next year" new editors will be able to make their own mistakes and do things in their own special disorganized way. These masters of yearbook manipulation have copied their final layout, sold their last yearbook, printed their last picture, scrounged up their last advertisement, and met the final deadline. Perhaps later yearbooks (and theirs were always pretty late as it was!) will be better off for their experience and innovation; perhaps yearbook quality will suffer. One thing is certain however: the one whose screams spasmodically explode from the art room between bursts typewriter clicking will no longer be Janice; the one who constantly loses and forgets everything and procrastinates until his back is up against the wall will no longer be Todd; the kid with the camera (who's always late or busy) will no longer be Kurt. The chaos, the confusion and the insanity of yearbook will no longer have that peculiar quality that for three years has been peculiarly their own.

A "Big Sister" program was started for the 7th and 8th grade Y-Teens.

Hostess Club

The Hostess Club was revived this year by an interested group of girls in their second year of Homemaking. Under the guidance of Mrs. Dragosavac, this year we have had a sewing contest to determine five winners to enter McCalls National "Sew For Fun" contest. We sold Betty Crocker Cook Books to raise money for prizes for the school contest. Future plans include Home Economists guest speakers, speakers and trips related to the Homemaking field and a trip to Penelec Test Kitchens in Eric, Pa. The Hostess Club also plans and prepares refreshments for an Open House Day for our faculty. This year it will be an open house at Christmas time.

Football 1976

Coaches: Lumley, Hyland, McNulty, Boswell

The football season of 1976 was a year of growth and development for the Bulldogs. We started the season with hope of improvement over the previous year. This, naturally, was going to be a complicated endeavor, being that we only had four regulars returning and a total of six lettermen.

The Bulldogs encountered great difficulty during the first half of the season with our newly installed Veer Option Series, along with encountering teams with fifteen to eighteen returning lettermen, who had completed good seasons the previous year.

After losing four games, our staff decided to make a change in our offense. We installed the wishbone formation, moving Kevin Reese, our quarterback, to a runningback, along with George McKnight. A sophomore, Doug Shilling, filled at the QB. Ed Sternby, another sophomore, took over the fullback position for Wes Massey, who was sidelined with a knee injury.

The blocking up front was handled by John at center and Mark Johnson, Dave Mushrush, and Dane Miller at guards. The tackles were John Molnar and Terry Crecraft, filling in for the injured Dale Shilling. With the pass catching of Jim Thomas, Tracy Ross, and Dave Harry, the Bulldogs began to perform to expectations.

Our defense became more aggressive with Reese moving to defensive end, Doc Artman and Doug Nelson at the linebackers positions, with Ken Burnett, along with Ed Sternby as our monster backs. Bill Battin, Glenn Walizer, with George McKnight began to rove the secondary.

Willard Kristoff and Eric Gaudlitz, performing well in our defensive front wall, anchored our defensive.

The Bulldogs began to perform with an overwhelming victory against Titusville, 34-23. Then the Dogs defeated Oil City, 36-14. We came home to play a tough Hickory team and lost, 10-6, in the last thirty-four seconds. The Bulldogs then regrouped and, a very cold, snow-covered, gridiron, defeated Corry at Corry by the score of 8-6. The Bulldogs lost their final game of the season to the knights of Franklin and ended the year with a 3-2 record in section 2, tying with Franklin for second place behind Northwest Conference Champs, Warren High School. On the year, we lost six games and won three. With eighteen lettermen returning for the 1977 season, we are going to work very hard off-season to improve our physical abilities and develop the proper mental attitude to bring winning football to Meadville Area High School.

The 1976 Football season was an exciting one to cheer. All through summer practice, our first outdoor assembly, Homecoming, cheering in the snow, the Halloween parade and finally the last game, we had a great time. As a squad we worked on our usual assemblies and bonfires, decorating the halls and lockers, and trying other tactics to get the team and student body "up" for the games. With the help of Kim Braham, co-captain, and the rest of the squad, we tried to stick together and make the best squad possible.

The J.V. Football Cheering squad all agreed that this season was really exciting and worth cheering for. We experienced many unusual times including cheering in the rain, sharing one pair of gloves among 8 cheerleaders in 0° weather, and our homecoming float getting stuck in the mud! (with us on it). We enjoyed working with Varsity and our captain Lori O'Laughlin and co-captain Kris Moore. We all had a super fun time getting ready for homecoming and we all wish we will be cheering the next two years.

Despite a quite ambiguous start in that famous summer of the Bicentennial, the band came screeching to a halt late in October . . . It was late August and we still weren't quite sure who the MASH Marching Band was. Who was going to "make the music?" The first drill was taught to the 32 faithfuls. With this thought in mind that on the 2nd of September the remaining 40 could learn the drill from those members who knew it. But September 2nd rolled around sooner than anyone hoped or liked. We still only had 32 playing members. This meant that between 3:30 p.m., the 2nd of Sept. and 8:00 p.m. the 3rd of Sept. the Band would have to relearn a new show. Sure enough after 2 days of dedicated work the Band went out at halftime, a "little shaky," but never the less, we were on. The following week took us to Warren and it was at this time that it was quite evident that something had to be done. We were not representing a school of over 1200 students very well . . . The following Tuesday we were drilling 72 players with a big thanks going to the 9th grade band from the Jr. High. What a difference, not only in appearance, but in sound also. This time our work was really cut out for us. With less than 2 weeks until our 1st Field Competition at Edinboro, on the 25th we had 32 members to teach marching fundamentals, music, . . . doing both together . . . and a new drill for everyone. Those two weeks saw the band practicing until 5:30 or 5:45 p.m. each evening with some evening and Sunday sessions added on. The first Friday evening we had all 72 players with our 60 member band front performing at Grove City in a torrential downpour. As we listened to Mr. B's critique in the rain that evening, it was quite evident that we weren't ready for Edinboro. During the next five days strange but welcome feelings started to come over the members of this organization, that of PRIDE . . . The Friday night before Edinboro found the Band preparing at home again. Compared to the first home game it was like a new band! It was the perfect dress rehearsal for start. As we entered the field at Edinboro the adrenaline was flowing freely and although all the members were quite nervous, they were also quite proud. The show was performed in 6 min. 29 sec., over 1 full minute less than the evening before. A great deal of pride, quite evident from the becoming smiles on all their faces as they returned to their seats. We didn't win, but we did our best and with one competition under our belts we were ready for more. All went smooth until Oct. 16. The Autumn Leaf Festival Parade. As we waited . . . and still waited our toes and fingers got cold . . . colder . . . and still colder . . . Finally it was our turn and we went and the wait was worthwhile. We took First Place. The work was paying off and the pride was growing. This win justified our band buttons and they showed up everywhere. The following weeks found us in Meadville at the Halloween Parade. Technically we came out on top (1st place) and the letters in the newspapers helped to spread the good word.

Of course the Corry Game was a lot of fun . . . 4 inches of snow and freezing temperatures! We officially came to a close on Senior Night, with the traditional honoring of the Seniors, this year providing much leadership and inspiration.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN ORDER FOR ALL INVOLVED IN THE 1976 EDITION OF MASH MARCHING BAND, and we are looking forward to even bigger and better things in years to come. (Look out McDowell, "We're gonna getcha")

The first games were disastrous,
Meadville thought the band had died.
Every rank fell out of step, f marc.
And we forgot our 8 to 5.
Percussion dragged the brasses clashed,
The flutes tried suicide.
We knew our band was marching wrong.

Friday found us fumbling,
Stumbling freshmen filled the scene.
Together, starting at the bottom,
Basics bloomed into routine.
Progressing practices lowly taught us,
To grow strong you must start green.
Our band was marching strong-er.

Glory, glory Mr. Billy,
He says our marching band looks silly.
We don't know all our music,
And we're not sure where to go.
But we gotta try anyway.

The autumn leaves were falling
As the MASH band spirit soared.
The trumpets were a-calling,
We could no longer be ignored.
We were rivaled by no others,
As our first place was secured.
Our band was marching strong.

Glory, glory Uncle Billy,
Our marching band's no longer silly.
We memorized our music,
The routine is going strong.
This band is marching on.

Alexander, S. Battista, S. Dimartino.

This year Show Corps has proven themselves to be a very dedicated and unified group. Also the making of new uniforms improved our morale after using the same ones for the last 1,000 years.

We performed in all the football games even in the rain and snow (remember Corry?). We also entertained during halftimes at home basketball games. In addition to performances at athletic events the Corps also participated in marching band competition in Edinboro with other top area bands, in the Clarion Autumn Leaf Festival, where we captured 1st place, winning Five-hundred dollars and a trophy, and at our own Halloween Parade where we also won 1st place, but were unable to accept because we sponsored the parade.

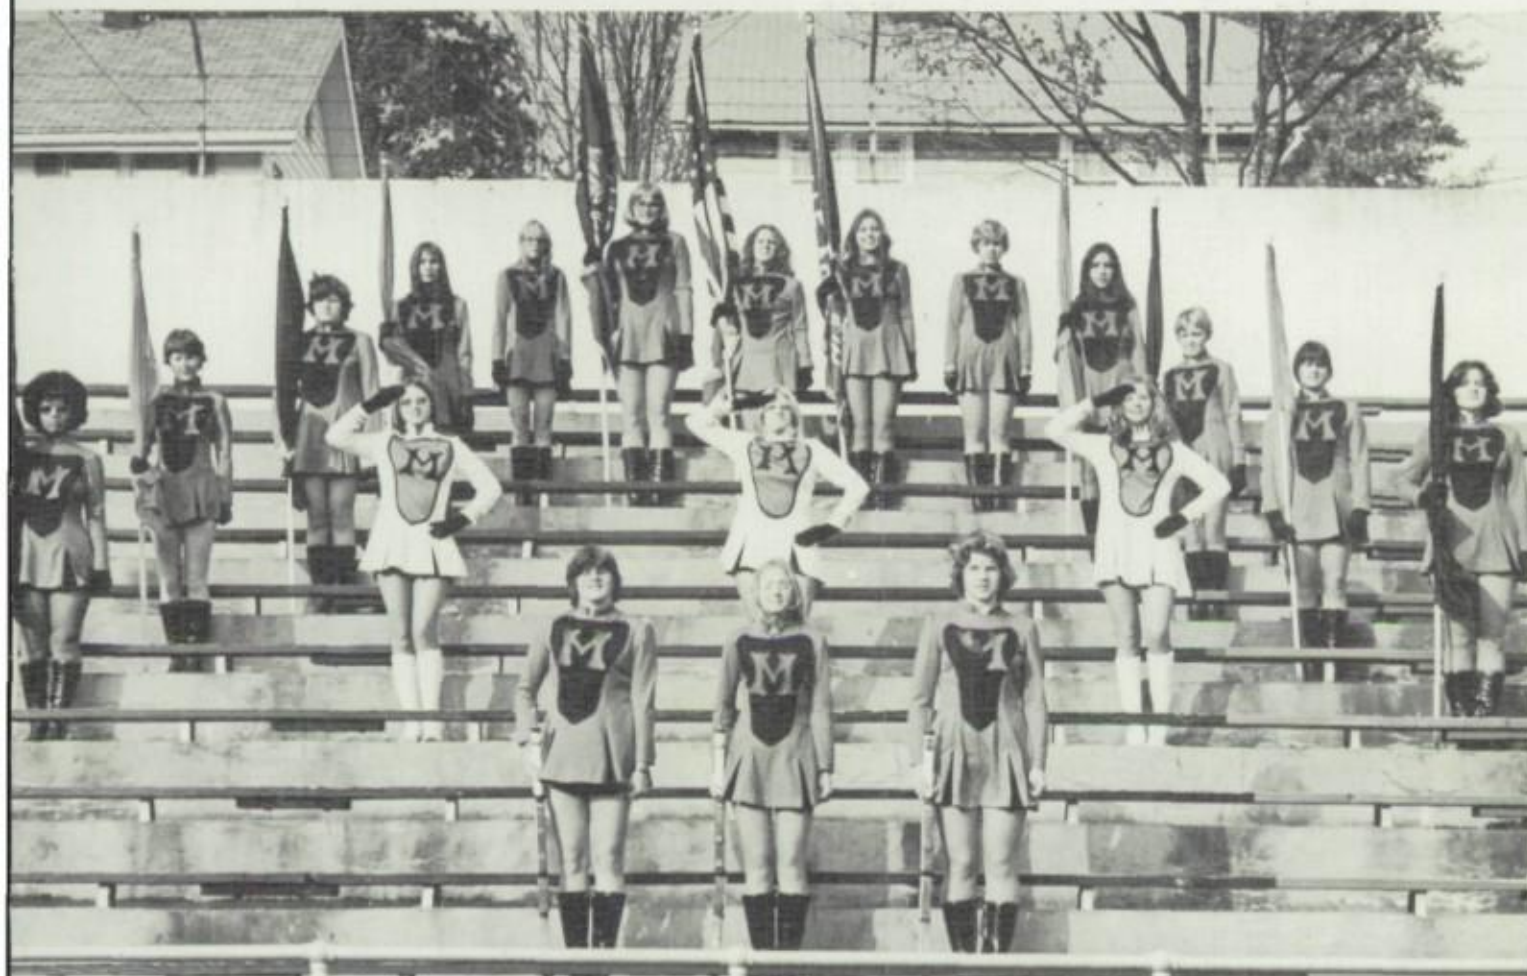

All in all MASH Show Corps proved to be the finest it has been in years under the direction of head De De Abbott, and co-heads Cheryl Kelyman, Chris Polchosky, and Elaine Powell. Also a special thanks goes to the Corps first advisor, Miss Debbie Walick.

If the Hands of Time could be turned back, the panorama of events in the MASH Color Guard would flash hues of red and black. Outfitted in a new uniform and equipped with flags paid for by the members, the guard, through practices during the summer months, readied themselves for the band's schedule of events. Problems presented themselves but were immediately called to right-shoulder arms, and thus solved. Notably without the help of Mr. Barbour, it could have never been possible. Headed by Kim Pyle with Laura Bloom as co-head, and Robin Whitesell as rifle-captain, the memories of the years' events will forever be remembered, and the Hands of Time may continue their progress forward for next years' Color Guard.

The Bulldog 1976 Cross-Country Team had an average season. We finished with a 7-4 overall record. We were 5-2 in section II and finished 9th in District 10. We competed in two invitational meets, Gannon finishing 7 and Central Cath. finishing 4. The team members were Joe Longo, sr., Jim Petruso, sr., John Moore, soph., Mike Harry, jr., Scott Ainsworth, soph., Mike Perkins, sr., and Dan Sexton, soph. As a team we lacked good grouping power. Joe Longo was only defeated once in duel meet competition and he became only the second Bulldog runner to become District 10 champ. Joe also established the Mead. course record, running three miles in 15 mins. 42 seconds.

The '76-'77 Girls' Basketball Team was the most successful in recent years. Posting a 12-8 season record, the team finished in a tie for second place in Section II. Five seniors will graduate from the team this year, returning four letter winners for next year. The top three scorers and leading rebounder return with a strong Junior Varsity squad (11-5 record) to form next year's team. The team attitude and effort made this years squad a pleasure to coach.

The 1976 M.A.S.H. Golf team finished the season with the Section II title and a 9-1 record, the only loss coming against Rocky Grove by one stroke. Leading the Bulldogs this season was junior, Steve Krolikowski who captured the District X Championship, then went on to win a bronze medal at the state P.I.A.A. Tournament by placing 7th. Also Gina Loiacona became the first girl to play on the team and did well at districts and qualified for states finishing 2nd and 27th respectively. Special praise should be given to seniors Tim Shafer, Curt Brown, junior Dave Weymer, sophomores Gregg Gordon, Perry Douglass, Mark Logsdon, and freshman Jeff Bailey who gave the team depth and did surprisingly well throughout the season, considering they played in their first high school golf matches. The golfers also maintained their undefeated record on home course, making it three years in a row. The team will only lose two players through graduation, Tom Shafer and Curt Brown. The outlook for next year's team looks very promising.

Varsity Basketball

November

Coaches Christy-Jones-Gettys. Forty-seven boys try out for the Varsity and J.V. teams. Hard work and good competition dwindled the team to a workable number of thirteen Varsity and fifteen J.V. players.

December

Exhibition play begins to prepare the team for section competition. Wins over Erie Academy and Erie East give the fans an encouraging sign for the season. Thus the Bulldogs met two road blocks. New Castle of Section 3, WPIAL, defeats the Dogs in a closely fought defensive battle, 44-36. McDowell, from Section 1, also dumps the Bulldogs. Section 2 play begins with a good win over rival Titusville, away. Warren is next but the Bulldogs go down in a well played game. Section standings (1-1).

Elks Tournament

Meadville meets undefeated Beaver Falls, a strong contender for the state championships. The Bulldogs surprise everyone by playing Beaver an exceptional game only to lose by 8 points, 79-71.

January

Section II play continues and the Bulldogs are dealt a heart breaking loss in overtime by Corry, 71-70. After three straight section games away, the Bulldogs win at home twice; 60-49 over Cranberry, and defeat Franklin 76-40. Three more Section II away games prove bad for the Bulldog Five. Hickory and Oil City are victors over the Bulldogs. In a must game at Rocky Grove the team plays tough defense and downs the Orioles, 57-54. This evens the Bulldogs record at 4-4 in Section II.

Then the weather, everything seems to be going wrong for the basketball team. Snow and cold weather cause a two week lay-off and things look bad.

February

Back to school and a revised schedule by the Section II principals and the Bulldogs are in a tough situation. Only scheduled to play the AAA teams in the section, Hickory, Warren, and Oil City, the Bulldogs stand with an 0-3 record. Meadville must win all three of their remaining games to tie for a second place play-off in Section II. Backs to the wall and personal pride at stake the Bulldogs start their drive. Hickory goes down 58-57, Warren is handed a 51-50 defeat, and the Bulldogs bury Oil City, 65-47. This surge by the Bulldogs sets up a play-off between Hickory Falls and Meadville for 2nd place and a District 10 play-off berth. Playing three pressure games in a row has been a big chore for the Bulldogs. The play-off at Edinboro State College's McComb Field House proved the end of the season for Meadville High School. A cold shooting night and a few costly mistakes give Hickory the win 63-54.

Boy's Swim Team

Way back in September, 3 months before their season started, the MHS Swim Team was summoned to the recreation complex for practice. Every night for 2½ hours plus 2 morning practices a week at 6:00 A.M. the team prepared for their season with 3 goals in mind. First, to win the Section 2 Championship for the second time in a row; Second, to repeat as District 10 Champions; Third, to make All State in the State Finals.

Pre-season predictions showed Warren to be the powerhouse of Section 2, but that was soon to be disproved. MHS rolled over Warren both times with scores of 99½-75½ and 54-29. Outstanding swimmers against the Dragons were: the medley relay team of Gildwa, Gordon, Starn, and Sternby, Jim Purdy in the 200 and 100, Gordon in the Breast, and Bailey in the Distance events. Marsh turned in a fine performance on the diving board. The Bulldogs sumerged every other section team. MHS reached their 1st goal by winning the section with a perfect 10-0 record.

The District was held at Edinboro and MHS rolled in like a tidal wave completely destroying all challenges to the District title. Meadville shocked everyone by a 147 point win. MHS won 6 of the 10 swimming events. The medley relay of Gildea, Gordon, Sternby, and Starn set a new district record of 1:44.2. Jim Purdy set a record in the 200 Free of 1:51.3, he then doubled by winning the 100 Free with a new MHS record of 50.0. Greg Gordon was a triple winner, setting a new district record in the 100 Breast Stroke of 1:04.8. The big surprise of the meet was Jeff Starn upsetting everyone to win the 50 Freestyle with a 22.72 a new MHS record. Greg Marsh and Dave Severo also earned valuable points in diving. Great performances were also turned in by Mike Brant, Ray Purdy, Matt Bailey, John Bole, Mike Starn and Brett Bailey. MHS had accomplished its' second goal of the season.

Only State Finals were left and 9 boys qualified. The closest anyone got to the State Final was Jim Purdy in the 100 Free in which he finished 15th. The Bulldogs came very close with all 9 boys finishing in the top twelve. Two Bulldogs did break Section and MHS records in the State meet. Jim Purdy in the 200 Free and Gordon in the 100 Breast. With only 5 seniors on the team MHS should be a powerhouse again in 1978. The 1976-77 Season could be summed up with one word "GREAT."

What does it take to make a terrific team? — A group of sixty guys and girls working out together helping one another, cheering for each other. — A group of volunteer assistants. — A group of hundreds of spectators to offer encouragement. — A supportive administration. It takes team work!

What did the team do? — Were undefeated in eleven dual meets. — Were Section 2 Champions. — Were District Champs. — Were second at the State Champions. — Had four swimmers automatically qualify for "All-Americans": Nan Farrar, Laura Laderer, Kathy Dempsey, and Mary Lynne McElhaney. — Have eight times submitted for consideration for "All American": Sheila Stuchell, Deb Dudenhaver, Kris Moore, Kathy Dempsey in the 200 Medley Relay; Nan Farrar — 200 Free; Nan Farrar and Mary Lynne McElhaney — 100 Free, and Mary Lynne McElhaney — 100 Breast stroke.

What do we do next? — Miss graduating seniors Kathy Dempsey and Deb Dudenhaver, co-captains and Nan Farrar and Tracy Douglass. — Cheer on returning team members. — Recruit new swimmers, divers and managers. — Work harder, swim faster, and do better than ever!

The 1977 Varsity Team showed much improvement during the year and finished 7-7, wrestling a very tough schedule. The team had only four seniors: Roger Hanes — 105, Dave Volna — 126, Dane Miller — 167, and John Amato — 185. The other team members were Juniors: Dave Mushrush — 145, Jeff Bossard — 138, Dave Harry — 155, and Chris Knapp — Heavyweight. Sophomores were: Ron Jones — 98, John Moore — 112, Jim Gionti — 119, and Joe Paris — 132. This was a rebuilding year and with our senior leadership, the team came a long way.

Section place winners were: Ron Jones — 4th, John Moore — 1st, Dave Volna — 1st, Joe Paris — 4th, John Amato — 2nd, Don Krueger — 4th, Jeff Bossard — 4th, Dave Mushrush — 4th, Dane Miller — 3rd, and Chris Knapp — 3rd. John Moore and Dave Volna advanced to District X, where Dave placed second and John was District X champion.

"How do you feel now, Amy?" "Not too good, Debbie — I can't move my neck." . . . "Neither can I."

Once I rose above the noise and confusion. Just once.

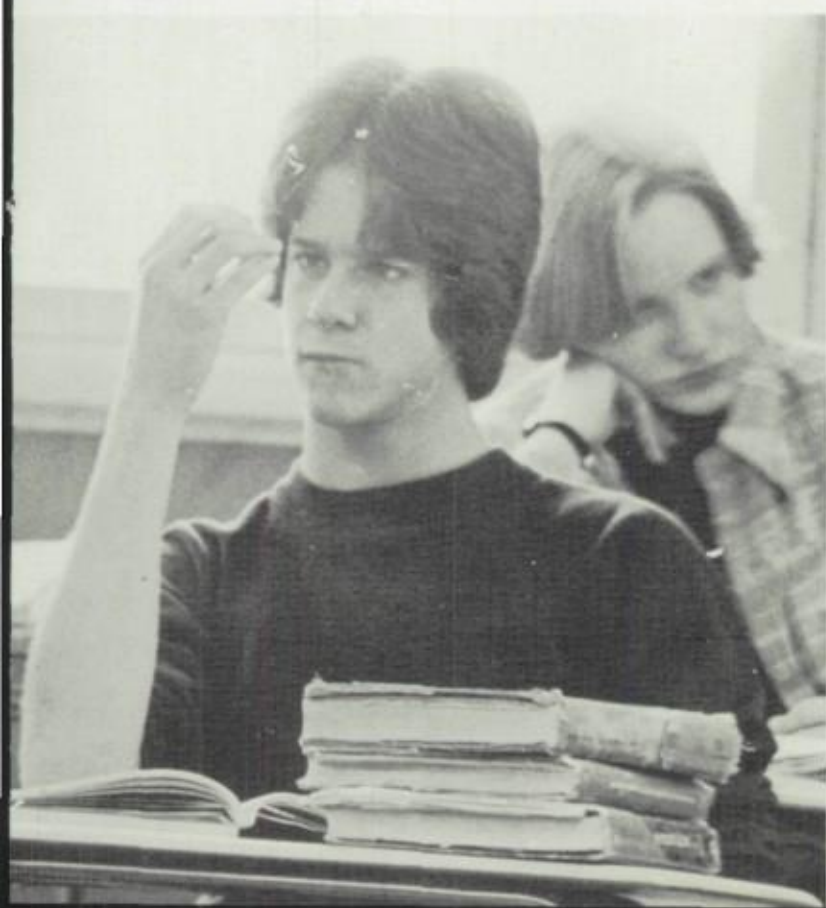

Twiggy: Update

You think she's funny, don't you? Go ahead and laugh. I can puff up MY cheeks too!

Hmmm . . . Flies do have six legs!

"Cash, pesos — we want money, gringo, do you understand?"

"Uh . . . uh, really, Rocko — I didn't know she was your woman . . ."

"You'll have to excuse him. We were all hoping the shock therapy would help."

"... and they said that a hairpiece would look artificial!"

"Live long and prosper."

Marie — when things are really gummed up, and the chips are down, she's a real lifesaver.

Two of the nicest pupils in school.

"Well, you see, I was just curious as to whether my thumb would fit up the faucet, and ... well ..."

"Get that camera out of here, I just stitched my fingers together ..."

"Oh, I wish she'd shut-up!"

What's Gerry up to now???

Well Jim, football isn't everything.

"You're disgusting!"

"Ooh, there's a fly in my clay!"

I wish I never had to say good-bye to all my friends who have made my high school years so happy and I wish for them a lasting memory of all the laughter and crazy times we've shared.

I wish all underclassmen success and happiness after all the seniors leave.

I wish Keith and I all the happiness in the world.

I wish that my number one senior from '76 will keep his promise and not let me get lonely.

I wish my sister Darlene a certain someone and I wish Mr. Young's keys would Jam!!

I wish that Mr. Peluso could take a MASH cast on national tour next year.

I wish Doug Byham and Chris Allegretti my Gold Duster and the ability to get to school on time.

I wish Sheryl, and my Big Bro a lot of luck and I hope we will always be close.

Look out — it's another one of those Hill ideas!

"Try a good shot at the back of the head, that'll kick it loose."

I wish "Barco" would show me his award winning technique.

I wish Mark was as much as I made him out to be.

I wish that people would understand that they are limited in life only by their own imagination. You can be what you want: the sky is no limit: the UNIVERSE is OURS!

I wish that there will be more unity among the seniors of the coming years.

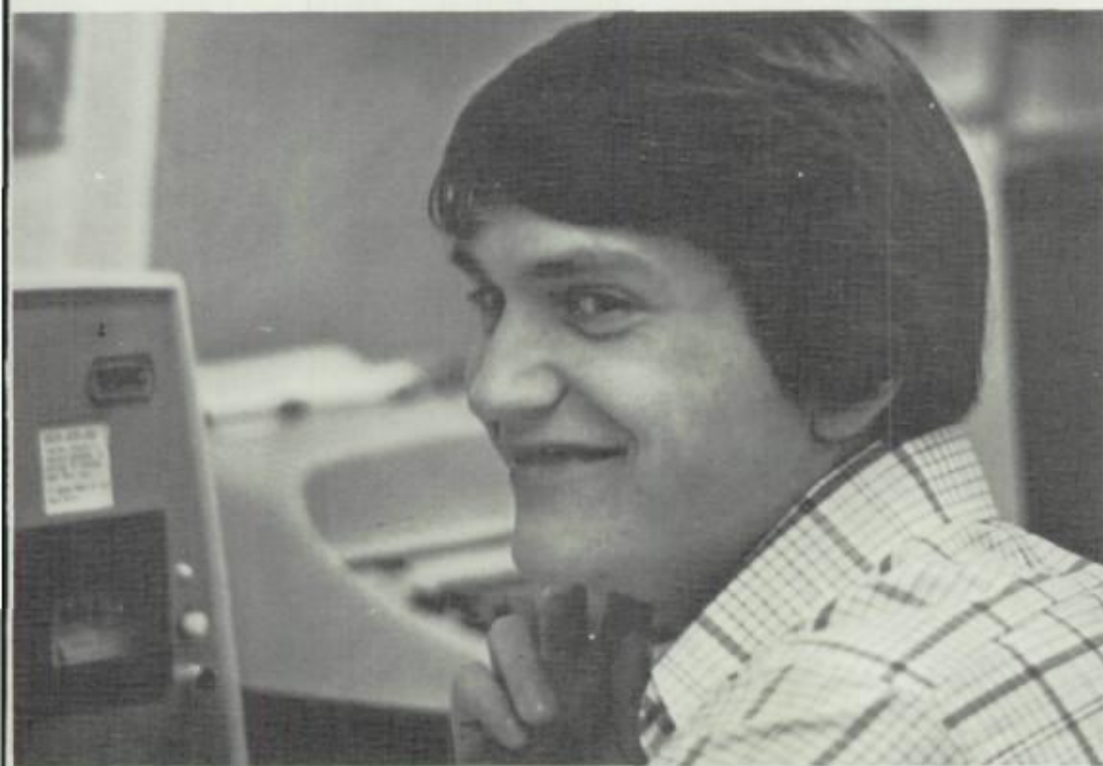

"No Mike, I didn't mean it . . . I was just kidding!!"

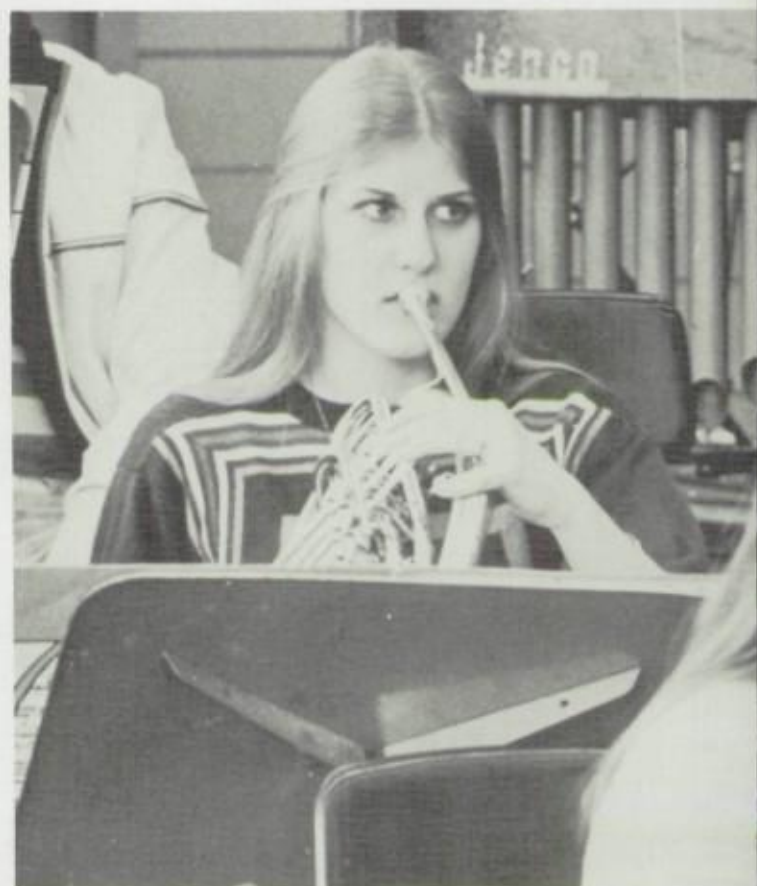

"Fiiiigaro, fiigaro, fiiiigaro."

"I finally taught this computer some REALLY BASIC language!"

"Hey, I figured it out! You have to press on these little things to make it work!"

A faded, sepia-toned photograph of a street scene. In the background, there is a two-story building with a dark roof and a small chimney. A utility pole with cross-arms is in the foreground, slightly to the left of the center. The ground appears to be covered in snow or is a light-colored surface. The overall tone is nostalgic and historical.

In 1889, a plot of land was purchased by a builder named George M. Roueche: today, eighty years later, the house built upon that land still receives the gazes and the stares confused of passers-by. The Victorian style is characterized by wings, bays, copulas, turrets, and other projections that whim might dictate.

The 1976-77 year has been a good year for the Réunir Club. The officers worked well together and much has been accomplished. A Réunir Harvest Dance was held around Thanksgiving and was well attended. Reunir is planning some fund raising projects to be used for the banquet at the end of the year. All in all, it was a successful year for the club. No one could wish for a better club and more willing members.

Saga '77

Carlisle's

I hope Sherry and Steve, Linda and John, and me and Bob can go as planned to Virginia Beach in June and have a super time. Which I know if we go we will.

Remember when during second period, when discussing Don Juan, laughter could be heard throughout C-wing.

Remember when Linda and I were Mr. Beltz's favorite students to get yelled at the most. Remember when he looked like a human thermometer the time he hollered at me.

I wish Mash-Mellow success next year after losing its present officers.

I wish the best of luck to girl's basketball and volleyball teams.

I wish my "mom" and "sis" the best of luck and that Joe and I stay together for a long time.

I wish Scarlet Cervone lots of luck and love and to have fun in the next few years.

Remember when Ann was shy and when Josh was here and we were all just "kids."

Remember when Beth Neugebauer was a worse driver than she is now.

Remember when all Joe and I ever had to do was ride around in a car.

I wish Toni Marietta another great summer and a great senior year.

I wish somebody/anybody would put a roof over the hill for those rainy days.

And in my heart, an undecided feeling, as a candle burns away. It was fun to be young, but please don't be sad where you are. For we are all individuals, meant to rule the earth in our rightful place.

I remember all the good times on the hill.

Remember when we drank the sprite tap dry and flipped chips at the prom and when Hoagie's voice couldn't be heard echoing down the hall.

Remember when Mrs. Griffin put all her effort to a lost cause.

I wish my little sister, Tammie Boyle, the best of luck in everything.

I wish Debbie and my little sis Diane lots of luck and my "mom" and "sis" everything they wish for in the future.

I wish Mary to get a new English teacher, and we all remember each other when we come back and are supposed to be "grown up," and that Jeff finds what he's looking for.

Remember when people read in 5th period American Nobel Prize and could understand the "big words" like "Back Hoe," "Motif," and "plagiarism."

Remember when Joe Longo acted normal (?) and got caught up in the Peter Frampton craze.

Remember the great collision on the meadow at Peek'n'Peak.

Remember when Sidney Stevens fell over a bench at Peek'n'Peak and sprained her ankle while trying to get in line to get her boots.

I remember when there was nothing worth remembering except yesterday. And it still is

Remember when we all loved Joe and the party in the boonies with the FEDS

I remember when we were all toothless first graders and wanted to be big Seniors, all done with school.

Remember when Mr. P made us go through the party scene twenty-five times in one O.K. night.

Remember when Mr. Keppel taught us how to do proofs.

Yallah was writing to the Easter Beagle.

Remember when Milton's class and class and all the work we didn't do.

Remember when we were sophomores green, we came up here with seniors mean, now the time has come to pass, we're the seniors here at last . . . JAM

Remember how Sunshine's eyes shined a week before Pat was due home?

Remember when swimmers had normal names like Bear, Barf, Beef, Beenie, Dude, Green-tooth (or something else), Slater-Face, Soe, Stymie, Fat Cat, Banshi, Jimbo, Greg-Go, and Mr. Z.

Remember when MASH Marching Band had blown it all SKY HIGH by placing first in the Clarion Parade Competition.

I wish to honor the memory of Bret Cronin. His death was a great and tragic loss to all. Remember his life, his courage, and his awesome struggle to hang on to it. Bret always thought and worked towards a full and good life. He never gave up and so triumphed, even in his death. I am proud to have known him.

Remember when the white team thought we would play.

Remember all of the Swim Team's Sled Riding parties at Oil Creek Road.

Remember working on the yearbook till 1-2 o'clock in the morning.

Remember when Mr. P. worried about props; Mrs. Kibler never worried about getting our excuses; Mrs. D. wondered if I knew what I was doing or getting into next.

Remember when Todd Johnson discovered the word "Jam" and everybody copied it.

I wish MASH Band the patience and drive to remain #1 and that Mary Ann Knoblow becomes the best ding-a-ling!!

I wish Regina Campbell a nice time in her next two years.

I wish for STYX to become the star he is in his dreams.

Life is for living, and loving, and caring and I hope everyone can share that experience with happiness.

May the friendship of the senior class continue to grow as many moments and days pass for we do not remember days we remember moments. Those that we have shared are hard to forget.

I wish Debbie and I would get married.

I hope I find what I have been looking for.

I wish everyone everywhere good luck and I hope you find Peace, love and happiness wherever life may take you.

I wish "barco's" Business Booming Success.

Remember when Mr. Genung wore his leopard vest and got his picture taken with the boys.

I'll always remember playing cards with Gina, Deb and Cathy. We always burned Gina.

I will Brenda White my place as Volleyball Statistician. And I hope that the senior class will revitalize school spirit next year.

Remember having the Section II basketball Championships when we were sophomores!

Remember when Me and Cindy missed almost the exact same days and no one got suspicious but Mr. Beltz.

Remember all the good times that we had in B-Wing Restroom.

Remember when we had so much fun at our junior prom.

Remember when Miramar and Renuir used to be so close.

I wish Debbie Baiera the best of luck in her next two years, and success in whatever she does.

These three years I have went to school, have really been a drag, and because of all those teachers that nag, and all that homework I had. So in the near future I wish lots of luck to all my burnt out friends and everybody from the over hill gang.

Remember when Lawrence D. was on time for history class once . . . don't strain your brain over it, Shafer.

Spring Season Review

Girl's Track

Boy's Track

The strength of the upcoming track season for the MHS cinderman lies in a group of talented seniors. Meadville's strength should be found in the long distance and the jumping events. The hard-working distance men are led by seniors Joe Longo, Jim Petruso, and Tim Sexton. In the jumping events the Bulldogs will return senior record holder Kevin Reese in the high jump and senior Joe Travaglini in the high jump and long jump. Senior Kevin Hamilton will be taking aim at the school pole vault record and junior Mike Harry should be outstanding in the 440 yd. dash. A very large group of talented freshmen could surprise some opponents as could several of our discus and javelin throwers.
